

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

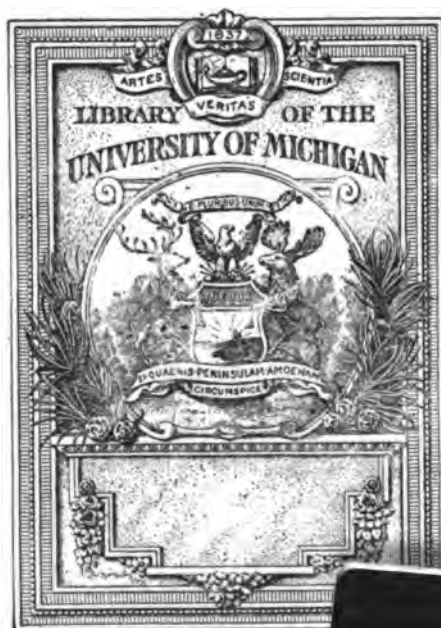

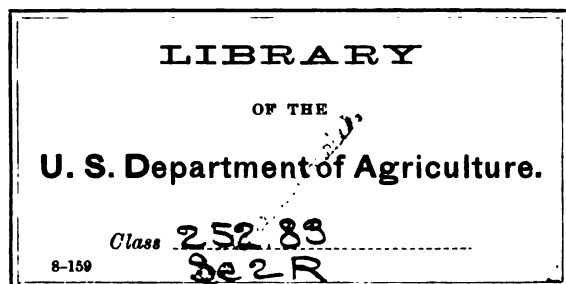

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF STATE.

DEPARMMENT OF STATE,
AUSTIN, TEXAS, December 27, 1888.

To the Governor:

In obedience to law I submit this report covering the transactions of the Department of State for the preceding two years.

Tabulated statements, together with such other addenda as previous custom has sanctioned so far as pertinent or demanded by precedent, are attached, and exhibit fully the business discharged.

In connection therewith I offer for your consideration the following comments and suggestions:

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS.

All foreign corporations proposing to do business in Texas were, by the Act of April 2, 1887, required to file certified copies of their charters in this office, and procure permits, etc. (Laws Twentieth Legislature, regular session, p. 116.) A number of companies tendered their charters under this act, but in view of the opinion rendered by the Attorney-General (which is embodied in the addenda) as to the unconstitutionality of said act, such charters were not filed nor permits granted. It is believed, however, that a law should be enacted requiring foreign companies engaging in business in this State to file copies of their charters and procure permits as contemplated in the act cited. If such a law be passed, it should prescribe a reasonable schedule of fees to be charged; and as it will be found, no doubt, that many foreign companies may have powers and franchises obnoxious to the laws of Texas coupled with others not objectionable, it is thought that such a law should authorize the issuance of limited permits with reference to the powers or franchises sought to be enjoyed or exercised.

DOMESTIC CORPORATIONS.

To meet the demands of the public our laws defining the purposes for which corporations may be created must be extended, especially so as to the creation of companies of a commercial character. While the policy permitting the creation of corporations for purposes other than such as individual capital and effort are inadequate to accomplish, is generally questioned and by high authorities altogether condemned, it has been very far departed from both in our own and the sister States; and as it will be found practically impossible, even if advisable, to suppress the competition of foreign companies with our own people engaged in commercial pursuits, it would seem to be the dictate of self-interest, in order to enable them to meet such competition, to accord to the people of Texas as broad privileges as are accorded to their citizens by other States, on the principle not unfrequently illustrated in legislation of making the most of those conditions which, however much they be deplored, cannot be controlled.

SUPREME COURT AND COURT OF APPEALS REPORTS.

My predecessor directed repeated attention to the fact that the publication of the Supreme and Court of Appeals Reports was at a loss to the State. This condition has not changed. The law providing for the free distribution of these books to the counties should be repealed, and they should be required to purchase them ; because it is found that while some counties are careful of their books, others are more indifferent, and it is hardly just that the diligent be taxed, as at present, for the benefit of the careless ; besides experience teaches that ordinary chattels are more carefully guarded when acquired by purchase than when freely acquired on requisition.

PUBLICATION OF LAWS, ETC.

There is a demand for the earlier statutes, now out of print, and impossible to be obtained. I earnestly recommend that both the general and special laws be reprinted, at least from, inclusively, the Laws and Decrees of Coahuila and Texas to those of 1876. They can be republished in convenient and appropriate form, according to the estimate of the Expert Printer, at a cost not exceeding twelve thousand dollars. The sales thereof will no doubt reimburse the State for this outlay. It is not deemed necessary to elaborate the benefit to accrue from such a publication, either from the standpoint of legal administration or from that of historic interest ; because this has been fully done, and these and other laws recommended to be reprinted, and the reason and necessity therefor publicly emphasized by the Texas Bar Association at its annual session held in the city of Dallas in 1886. The suggestion of such a body of men ought not, I respectfully submit, to be lightly disregarded.

The laws of the Twentieth Legislature were all printed at the State office, and I have therefore been able to supply them to the public at greatly reduced prices, while maintaining the legal rate of profit. For the future provision should be made for electrotyping the laws and ownership by the State of the plates, as it will only be a question of little time when there will be a necessity for reprinting the laws of current Legislatures.

ELECTIONS.

There is unnecessary delay in forwarding the election returns to this office ; perhaps if the law imposed a reasonable penalty for the willful or negligent failure on the part of the officials charged with this duty, to make returns within the time limited, this condition would disappear.

COMMISSIONS.

The law requires this Department to forward to the Clerks of the County Courts the commissions of all Notaries Public who are appointed and confirmed ; the consequence is that a large proportion of said commissions are returned. As a remedy it is respectfully suggested that the law should be so amended as to authorize this Department to forward a list of such appointments to the Clerks, and request them to collect the fee, if required, and transmit the same, together with the certificate of qualification, to this office, whereupon commissions to be issued and forwarded to said Clerks.

In this connection it is suggested that the law requiring the collection of fees for official commissions should be repealed. The conditions that necessitated the enactment of this law, whether existing in fact or supposition, have passed away ; and the law is otherwise objectionable as imposing a tax on the machinery of government.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

The records of this office disclose that you have, including felonies and misdemeanors, restored to citizenship in 160 cases, commuted sentence in 187, and extended pardons in 157 cases.

REQUISITIONS FOR AND EXTRADITION OF CRIMINALS.

ARCHIVES, BOOKS, ETC.

The Twentieth Legislature at its special session appropriated the sum of $2500 for the purpose of arranging, classifying, and indexing the books, papers, and archives of this Department, which were in great confusion, owing to the burning of the old Capitol and the fact that thereafter the Department had neither the room nor means properly to classify and arrange the same. This work has been pushed as rapidly as the nature of the work and the exigencies of the Department would permit. Of this appropriation the sum of $1714.98 has been expended. I recommend the appropriation of $2500 to be expended in the completion of this work, which is of great historic and practical value.

CLERICAL FORCE.

In view of the increasing business of the Department, and especially in connection with the intelligent care, preservation, and distribution of the various State publications intrusted thereto, I believe it to be to the best interest of the State to provide for the permanent employment of one additional clerk, who should be exclusively charged, under the direction of the Secretary of State, with the care and distribution of said publications.

I append a statement of the fees and perquisites collected, from which it appears that there is a slight increase over previous years.

Respectfully,

J. M. MOORE,
Secretary of State.

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
AUSTIN, TEXAS, Oct. 3, 1887.

Hon. J. S. Hogg, Attorney-General, Austin, Texas:

DEAR SIR—I submit herewith the charter of the Matador Cattle Company, etc., and respectfully ask your opinion:

As to whether the same may be legally filed under the Act of April 2, 1887?

As to what is the legal fee demandable by this department for filing the same?

And whether it is competent for this department to grant a limited permit authorizing said company to engage in one or more species of business specified among the objects of said company?

An early reply will greatly oblige,

Yours, etc.,

J. M. MOORE,
Secretary of State.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
AUSTIN, TEXAS, October 8, 1887.

Hon. J. M. Moore, Secretary of State, Austin, Texas:

DEAR SIR—By letter of the 3rd inst. you transmit for inspection to this department the charter of the Matador Land and Cattle Company, and with reference to it ask: 1st. Whether the same may be legally filed under the Act of April 2nd, 1887? 2nd. What is the legal fee demandable by the Secretary of State for filing it? 3rd. Whether it is competent for you as Secretary of State to grant a limited permit authorizing said company to engage in one or more species of business specified among the objects thereof.

The charter referred to certainly is liberal enough in the declaration of the purposes for which it was created to embrace about all the subjects included within the general business domain of the most prosperous commercial community. It purports to have been incorporated in Scotland, and among other objects it has in view and claims to have authority for are, to acquire and hold, to use and manage, to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of lands, hereditaments, real property and any interest in real property of every description and tenure, situated in the United States of America, and to develop the same in such manner as the company may think fit. To this end it proposes to cultivate its lands; to buy, breed, raise, and sell all kinds of live stock; to erect factories, stores, and other buildings thereon; to irrigate, drain, and plant it; to construct water-works, canals, wharves, harbors, roads, railways, etc., on it; to promote immigration and settle it; to slaughter live stock and deal in dead meat, hides, and tallow; to manufacture * * * * * the products of the country, and to carry on any trade, business or undertaking deemed by the company conducive to the development of its property, etc. In addition to the expressed and leading object of owning and holding real estate and of developing it in all the ways known to agriculture and horticulture, and to the sciences and arts, this peculiar "invisible being" of Scotch incubation proposes to import and export cotton, grain, and stock; to become carriers by land and by water; to engage in a kind of banking business by dealing in bills of exchange and issuing its obligations bearing interest for a limited period or in perpetuity; to unite with or absorb or to buy the charters or franchises of other companies, besides to indulge in many other enterprises, great and small, peculiar and interesting to contemplate.

As comprehensive as all this seems to be, the reasons of it can be best understood by the declaration of the company itself to the effect that its business is not to be carried on at its own home in Scotland, or anywhere else in the United Kingdom of Great Britain; and that "the dissolution of the company may be determined on by the company for any reason whatever."

If the charter of this company can be filed, that of any other known to corporation law can also be admitted into Texas.

It claims to be a corporation. This is not here conceded, but for the purposes of an answer to your questions grant it to be one; and what then is its legal status in this country?

Its leading object is to own and improve lands, except in the country of its incorporation. To this end it claims special privileges.

Is such a corporation permissible under Texas laws? Upon the principles of comity, so universally recognized and upheld in the different States, foreign corporations which are not expressly or impliedly forbidden by their respective constitutions or laws to transact business outside of the State incorporating them are permitted to operate in the various States of the Union. The general rule is subject to the following qualifications: The comity referred to does not extend so far that a State will allow a foreign corporation to exercise any extraordinary franchises, or do any act contrary to the laws or the public policy of the State as indicated by its legislation, etc. (Taylor on Corporations, Sec. 385.)

Then does not this company propose to exercise extraordinary franchises, not compatible with the public policy of this State?

It certainly does in its prime purpose to own and improve lands, as well as in many other respects before mentioned, not important to repeat.

The ownership of lands in Texas by alien and foreign natural citizens was itself a question of general debate and doubtful propriety by the founders of the Republic when the policy of the government was planned by patriots whose statesmanship has made its impress upon the brightest pages of this State's history. The law granting them such a privilege was passed upon the strongest possible appeal, and chiefly out of two considerations: 1st. That a large soldier element in the United States, who had fought for Texas independence, were by all the emotions of gratitude and principles of justice entitled to own lands within her border. 2nd. That her own population was too poor to supply an impoverished treasury, or to pay a large war debt, or to buy and own the lands at a fair price.

In those days the mere suggestion in legislative councils to permit foreign corporations to acquire vested rights in Texas lands would have been the signal of a tempestuous indignation of the people fired by the mutual voices of incensed patriots denouncing it as inimical and poisonous to good government.

Strange but true our constitutions have never spoken in plain terms against landed monopolies by this class of corporations. By implication those provisions against perpetuities, etc., may cover the case. This, however, is not clear in the absence of legislative declarations on the subject.

It has been held that where there is nothing to the contrary in the policy of the State as declared by its Legislature, a foreign corporation may purchase real estate therein. (100 U. S., 55.) This policy cannot, however, be inferred, but to prevent them from holding lands the prohibition must be clear, positive, and expressed in some affirmative way. (101 U. S., pp. 352, 356; 102 Ill., p. 46.)

It would hardly be reasonable, however, that foreign corporations could acquire or maintain more than the ordinary privileges of domestic ones. Therefore, if a domestic corporation could not charter for the purpose of purchasing and owning real estate in Texas, the privilege should be also denied a foreign one.

Under Art. 566, Sec. 7, Revised Statutes, private corporations could be formed for "the purchase, location, and subdivision of lands and the sale and conveyance of the same in lots and subdivisions, or otherwise." By amendment of this article in 1885 (General Laws, p. 59), this section was omitted and the right limited to "the purchase, subdivision, and sale of land in cities, towns, and villages," and this purpose for which a corporation could be chartered was expunged from the statutes of this State by the last act on the subject—General Laws 1887, Chap. 58, p. 40. So that now there is no law in Texas expressly authorizing either foreign or domestic corporations with such purpose alone in view to purchase, own or hold lands in the State: but by clear implication, fully justified by the Constitution against perpetuities as well as by the general course of legislation touching the subject, the class of corporations referred to cannot lawfully purchase or own lands in this State when such is its main purpose of incorporation. At all events if this construction is not correct, justified, and upheld, the result is certain to be most disastrous to the natural citizens who hope in the future to own lands in Texas.

Entertaining this view, as well as the conviction that the Legislature by its Act of 1887, Chap. 128, did not intend to discriminate in favor of foreign corporations, or to admit that class of companies whose organization and purpose both portend evil effects upon the policy of the State, and are clearly repugnant to the general interests of the public, you are advised, in response to your first question, not to file the charter of the Matador Land and Cattle Company.

Grouping your other two questions together, you are respectfully advised: 1st. That it was evidently the intention of the Legislature that for filing the certified copies of the charters referred to in the act, the corporations obtaining the permit should pay the fees required of domestic corporations for similar work. This you will find regulated by the General Laws of 1883, p. 72. 2nd. That it would not be proper for you to attempt to limit the purpose of any corporation to which you may issue a "permit." Refuse to issue to them any permit at all unless the purposes of their incorporation are consistent with the laws of Texas regulating domestic corporations.

While the point has not been directly raised by your questions, it is perhaps proper and quite advisable at this time to call your attention to the "unconstitutionality" of the act under consideration. Ordinarily this should be approached with much delicacy and be performed with no slight degree of embarrassment; for when any officer or member of a co-ordinate department of the Government disregards an act of the Legislature, or declares it void, he assumes a most serious and unpleasant responsibility. In this instance, however, timely, candid action is of the highest importance to the general public, and should be taken before complications arise from the futile attempt to enforce this law. A statute in almost the identical language of it was passed by the Iowa Legislature, April 6, 1886. Compared line with line from beginning to end, there is no material difference between the two acts. In subject, in language, in objects, in duties imposed and penalties prescribed—section by section—the similarity is so striking that the authors of the two must have been twins in thought and duplicates in action. The Iowa authorities sought to enforce their law. A test case was made, and on a writ of error to the Supreme Court of the United States it was there held that the law was unconstitutional; upon the grounds:

1st. That where a State statute grants to a foreign corporation a permit to transact business in the State, no conditions can be imposed by the State which are repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States.

2nd. When it is apparent that the entire purpose of a State statute is to deprive a foreign corporation in certain suits of the rights conferred upon it by the constitution and laws of the United States, to remove a suit from the State court into the Federal court, a provision of the statute making the surrender of such constitutional privilege a condition precedent to the granting of a permit to transact business within the State renders the statute requiring the permit entirely void. (See Barron v. Burnside, Vol. 7, No. 27, p. 931, U. S. Sup. Ct. Reps.)

Similar questions have been settled repeatedly in the same way. (See Taylor on Corp., Sec. 400; 20 Wall., U. S., 445.)

No doubt the Legislature in passing this law was prompted by laudable motives, with the public good as the only end and aim, but the wrong precedent was duplicated, and the object of the act therefore fails.

If you concur in this view, which seems to be so well and pointedly settled by the highest judicial authority, then neither of your three questions or the answers thereto become material, and an official public declaration that you will not attempt to enforce the act in question would be proper under the circumstances.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

J. S. HOGG,
Attorney-General.
